

Practice Cursive Writing with Fun Poems!

NAME:

DATE:

George Washington's Cherry Tree

A boy once told the truth one day,

Though he was scared of what they'd say.

"I cannot lie," he said out loud,
And made his father very proud.

He grew to lead a brand-new land,

With courage, strength, and steady hand.

A lesson simple, strong, and true—

Be honest in all that you do.